CCI's Ultimate Solution for Jacquard Sampling Makes Your Dreams Come True

Traditional jacquard machines are often constrained by existing harnesses when there is demand for new specifications. It is always time-consuming to change the harness to meet new requirements, which makes it impossible to finish fabric samples for customers in a short time with ease.

To solve this problem, CCI provides an ultimate solution by integrating compact and multi hooks jacquard machine onto our sampling loom, Evergreen II. The one-on-one harness arrangement with a unique device and specially developed software are also included to make the solution complete. So warp density and repeat width can be easily adjusted without having to replace the entire harness, delivering extremely high flexibility. This means you can not only save on the cost of sampling phase, but also get orders faster.

The solution will be available in the middle of this year. You're welcome to contact us about your specific requirements so that we can have further discussion to find out a solution that works best for you. Contact us at info@ccitk.com.

Let's Fight the Coronavirus

Although IGATEX Pakistan 2020 has been postponed to July due to coronavirus outbreak, we'd like to let you know that Taiwan is currently doing a good job in epidemic control. Our production line here has not been affected and everything works as usual. However, due to regional restrictions, our service and machine installation in some regions may be affected. But we still can minimize the inconvenience through online contact. We appreciate your understanding of this particular situation. Herewith CCI would also like to remind you to stay healthy and prevent the spread of infections together.
