

CCI Launches Six-language Version of Website

CCI is very excited to announce that the new website, www.ccitk.com now available in six languages, including English, Italian, Turkish, Korean, Simplified Chinese, and Traditional Chinese. We hope this new site brings us closer to our customers and provides a better user experience. The Japanese version is coming soon!

Capability to Handle Fine Counts of up to 100Ne

A regular shirt is usually in the range of 30 Ne to 40 Ne. To produce finer quality, the fibre will be higher in count such as 60Ne, 80Ne or 100Ne. CCI 'ON THE LOOM' solution has proven its capability to accomplish the task of 100Ne just like the mass production machine can do. Specially designed for sample and small quantity production, CCI's Taroko and Lutan can be ideally applied to production of short run beam in full width for weaving preparation of sizing and warping. More details to follow soon.

Drawing-in Can Be Automatic Now

The heald frames of CCI sampling loom are now compatible with major automatic drawing-in machine to enable a correct yarn preparation with automatic technology and yield big savings on staffing costs. The improvement also aims to relieve the problems that customers are increasingly facing like labor shortages and rising salary costs. Now our customers can work in a more efficient way and get into the market easier and faster.

Review of DTG

We'd like to cordially thank to everyone who came to visit our stand at this year's DTG in Dhaka. It's our pleasure to meet you and show you the advanced features of our solution. We are very pleased that during the show we successfully drew a lot of attention and received the orders for a few Evergreen, Taroko, and Lutan from local buyers. We hope you enjoyed the exhibition and will take advantage of our solution. Hopefully we will see you again in the near future!
